

Covenant Theology

Lesson Nine

What key Old Testament prophetic passages speak of the inauguration of the New Covenant?

In what way is the New Covenant new? Is it, as some suppose, simply a fulfillment of the Old Covenant or is it in fact something entirely new?

In the space below, explain how the New Covenant differs significantly from the Old Covenant (which was administered through the Adamic, Noahic, Mosaic, and Davidic Covenants).

Where might one find Scriptural support for Jesus' having sealed the New Covenant by His blood and for His elect?

On page 51 of our book, the author makes the following statement: “The administration of the New [Covenant] would not be in the manner and practice of the Old [Covenant]. Here is biblical discontinuity.” Is the author treading on dangerous ground here? Explain.

In the New Covenant, God irrevocably promises several things to each of its members that He did not promise to each member of the former administrations. What are they?
